 - i. See attached PowerPoint. There is a lot of work happening. Sonya will be reaching out to have social engagements sponsored by PCC to promote community connections. Group discussed advocating more as a group and more leadership training. It was pointed out that Emory is still the only place that doesn't pay preceptors. APPs need to be in discussion for practice model redesign
 - e. MOT Residency Clinic (Britt Marshall) (20 min)
 - i. See attached PowerPoint. Britt would like suggestions on best ways to set up design of new areas.
 - f. Branding Activity Update (Danielle Jones) (5 min)
 - i. Elevator Speech: The best Emory starts with the best Primary Care. To attract patients, deliver the highest quality of care, and recruit the best learners, we work to support our Primary Care providers. By breaking down silos and solidifying bridges between primary care sections and schools throughout our system, we aim to show that strategic investments in primary care and its people are wise investments in our whole system. Achieving high provider satisfaction leads to lower team turnover, higher patient satisfaction and recruitment, and engages our learners in the joy of primary care, showing them that at Emory, primary care is more than a job, it is a career.

IV. New Business (15 minutes)

a. Member Updates

- i. Drs. Vaughn and Johnson have STEADI toolkit with CDC partnership
- ii. Drs. Vaughn and Johnson are also partnering to find a safer way to prescribe opioids
- iii. Sept 1st deadline for PC redesign approaching. Pilots at 1525 Clifton, MOT and Peachtree Hills

- a. Next meetings: October 30, 1:30-3:00 pm; January 28, 1:30-3:00 pm

Vision: Careers in primary care are viable, sustainable, and rewarding. Emory becomes a destination for training and working in primary care.

Mission: To promote a positive, diverse culture of collaboration and engagement that supports high value and quality patient-centered primary care, discovery and innovation.

Goals:

- To offer and sustain opportunities for excellence in clinical practice, scholarship, research, education, and leadership.
- To serve as a focal point for implementation and on-going integration of activities supporting primary care - across the departments, schools, health systems and communities.
- To support further growth of high-functioning, interdisciplinary, teams, and expand the pipeline of primary care leaders, clinicians, and researchers.
- To support learner focused initiatives.

Activities:

- Faculty Engagement, Promotion, Recruitment, and Retention
- Funding Support for Student Groups, Emory Primary Care Branding/Outreach (External and Internal Audiences), Individual Project Grants
- Cataloging and Promoting Emory's Primary Care Activities/Projects/Efforts
